THE OLD GINHOUSE.

Swaying pines have grown around it. Trumpet vines with garlands bound it. Yellow juncos climbed and crowned it. Laughing down their green and gold. Tendrils through each crack escaping. Hide the worn roof widely gaping. Every hole with heavy dripping. In the ginhouse gray and old.

In the moon the squirrels peeping. O'er the rafters lightly leaping. With a bark awake the sleeping. Owl, who blinks up, drowsy poled; And at night, with sudden stirring. Round the ginhouse, the was light blurring. Fit the bats with dusky whirling. Round the ginhouse gray and old.

Oh, the days well high forgotten. When about the floor now rotten. Waves and waves of snowy cotton. While the rafters wrought swinging. Nodded boys that yet are ringing. O'er the tide of time still winging. From the ginhouse gray and old.

Oh, those songs with sweetest tuning. Chasing care and pain redeeming! Open still they echo, ringing. By salubrious air, the wind. And at once their echoes bring. Hark! hark! hark! the pine trees lying. Listening to the wind low sighing. Round the ginhouse gray and old.

Lena is now the old plantation. Fairest spot in all creation. Teardrops cloak the sad relation. And its sorrow can't be told. Deeds of its ruins heavy. Over so long and story. All must yield in beauty's glory. To the famous ginhouse old. —S. M. Puck in New York Independent.

IT WAS EASY TO DO OVER.

How Her Husband's Desk Was Transformed Into a Sideboard.

A suburban woman is obliged to endure the pangs and fears of her family with an installation because of her credulous faith in a suburban cabinet maker.

An incident, on the husband's side, was an old fashioned mahogany desk of more curious than artistic make. It was used as a desk and not pretty as a piece of old furniture, so when an idea for its evolution came to her she was doubly pleased. She consulted the suburban cabinet maker, who pronounced her plan entirely feasible and announced himself willing to carry it out before she broached it to her husband.

"Make a buffet, or serving sideboard, out of my great-grandfather's desk!" repeated he, when it was broached. "It can't be done, my dear, and I hate to have it touched too."

"But you don't like it," now coaxed the wife, "and the cabinet maker says it will be very easy to do over. It will be the desk, slightly enlarged, that is all. The lovely doors will be set under the shell as panels, and those graceful columns will stand out in added beauty as front supports. He will have to add a little wood and introduce a mirror, but all the choice mahogany of the desk will be preserved and show much more effectively."

In the end he was persuaded, and the desk was taken away. Some weeks passed during which the wife made a careful record of inspection to the cabinet maker, regarding parts of the work and pointing out to various suggestions and additions to the original plan.

The cabinet maker was finally delivered one evening not long ago. Its own father would never have known it. There were six feet of sideboard against the former two of desk, and the original doors and columns were there, but that was all of the first piece of furniture, which had been built on and added to till it stretched half way across the dining room.

"My lost great-grandfather's desk!" exclaimed the other.

The cabinet maker withdrew, after laying a folded paper upon the table. The husband rushed first and opened it. It was a bill of $65 for "work and wood furnished." "Certain!"—New York Times.

Frenchmen Believe in Woman's Ability.

Frenchmen are great believers in women's work, and a splendid tribute to the educational value of woman has just been paid by Le Temps, which strongly advocates their appointment to all state schools for boys up to the age of 12 years. The military laws of the country cause, it seems, an annual diminution in the number of male school-masters, and there seems some danger of the supply ultimately falling far short of the demand. Le Temps suggests this possibility should be anticipated by appointing schoolmistresses, so that young France seems more than likely to be trained by the gentler sex. Women, says this influential organ, is a better educator than man, and boys trained by her up to an age when firm discipline is required are certain to have the foundation of stronger and nobler characters laid than when placed from early childhood in the hands of men. This is indeed a tribute to the gentler sex.

Prayerful Revenge.

A Puritan preacher named Boyd was in the habit of inveighing against Cromwell. Secretary Tharlow informed the latter, advising him to have the man shot. "He's a fool, and you're another," said the preacher. "I'll pay him out in his own coin." He asked Boyd to dinner and before giving him any prayer for three hours.

WEAK MEN

Should be Looked Into.

THOROUGH INVESTIGATION REQUESTED.

A BOLD ASSERTION.

Ever since Prof. Koch startled the world by promising to cure consumption with the Koch lymph and his complete failure to do so, the people have been looking for some discovery which would prove an absolute, certain cure for that dread disease. Over a quarter of a century ago Dr. R. V. Pierce, chief consulting physician to the Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, put in a claim for a medicine, which he had discovered and used, in his extensive practice, that would cure ninety-eight per cent. of all cases of consumption when taken in all its early stages. Time has proved that his assertion was based on facts gained from experience. His "Golden Medical Discovery" has cured many thousands of people in all parts of the world, and Dr. Pierce is still interested to send to him for a free book which gives the names, addresses and photographs of many prominent people who have willingly testified to the marvellous curative properties of his "Golden Medical Discovery." He has also written a Book of 160 pages on "Diseases of the Respiratory Organs," which treats of all Throat, Bronchial and Lung diseases, also Asthma and Catarrh, that will be mailed by the World's Dispensary Medical Association of Buffalo, N.Y., on receipt of six cents in stamps, to pay postage.

Consumption, as most everybody knows, is first manifested by feeble vitality, loss of strength, emaciation; then local symptoms soon develop, as cough, difficult breathing, or bleeding from lungs when investigation proves that tubercular deposits have formed in the lungs. It is earnestly advised that the "Discovery" be taken early and the latter stages of the disease can thereby be easily avoided.

To build up solid flesh and strength after the grip, pneumonia, ("lung fever"), exhausting fevers, and other prostrating diseases, it has no equal. It does not make fat like cod liver oil and its nasty compounds, but, solid, wholesome flesh.

SATURDAY, DECEMBER 14, 1895.

THE PACIFIC RAILROADS' DEBT.

Senator Frye of Maine has introduced a bill for the settlement of the indebtedness of the bond-aided railroads to the Government. It is similar to a bill introduced by Mr. Frye half a dozen years ago. It is based upon an investigation made by the committee of which the Senator was Chairman. It provides for incorporating the roads and branches in one general company, which shall give the Government a mortgage on the whole property with bonds running one hundred years, with interest beginning for the first two years at one per cent and gradually increasing to two per cent.

It is remarkable, or it would be if the Government was not conducted in the interest of the money powers, that no attempt is made to pass a bill providing for the Government ownership of the subsidized railroads, which, while their owners are multi-millionaires, refuse to pay their indebtedness to the Government. It is strange, too, that men who are in favor of having the Government go into partnership with a private corporation to build the Nicaragua Canal, or to build and run the canal on its own account, think the Government incapable of conducting a railroad. New York has owned and run its canals for years. A small toll paid all expenses of maintaining the canals. Their use was free to all who paid the toll and complied with the regulations. Is it not possible for the General Government to run a railroad on the same principle? Cheapening of transportation rates from Nevada to the seaboard would encourage the development of the agricultural resources of the State, but it is noticeable that some of the papers which devote much space to water as a cure for dull times in Nevada, are silent as to the question of reducing freight rates. That is a side of the proposition which even our polyhedral neighbor studiously avoids.

IS BLACKLISTING LEGAL?

When the great railroad strike of 1894 began, Fredrick R. Ketcham was a freight conductor on the Chicago and Northwestern railroad. When the employees of the road went out on strike Ketcham joined them. Subsequently he was given a freight train and made a round trip from Chicago to Dubuque, Iowa. On his return to Chicago he was arrested on a federal indictment and on being released from custody he was informed by the railroad company that his place was filled. He was told that he would not be given employment because he was a member of the A. R. U. and that the order came from headquarters. Ketcham brought suit against the railroad company for $25,000 damages under the common law, which makes boycotts and blacklists, for the purpose of injuring persons in their business occupation, a conspiracy.

The case is now on trial in Judge Burke's court, Chicago. The plaintiff shows that the Division Superintendent sent out a blacklist to other companies on which his name was printed. This, he alleges, prevented him from obtaining employment from other roads and deprived him of the means of obtaining a livelihood. The ablest lawyers in the employ of the railroad companies are arrayed against him, for if the courts decide that a man who has been blacklisted is entitled to damages, hundreds of suits will be instituted against the railroads.

THE DROP IN SILVER.

Bar silver has dropped to 65 cents per ounce in New York. The price of the metal in London fell below 30 pence per ounce, and as we generously let Europe fix its market value, every silver miner and farmer in the United States suffers by the decline, as the prices of farm products are affected by the price of silver.

The sharp fall in silver in London is attributed to the fact that the Chinese indemnity to Japan, which, so far as paid, was deposited in the Bank of England, has been turned over to the Japanese Government. The Japanese, instead of purchasing silver for use in Japan, as was expected, is now loaning the money in England. This is construed to mean that the money, which was paid in gold, will be expended in the purchase of war ships and other material, and buyers of silver are making the most of it by refusing to pay more than 30 pence an ounce for bullion.

With the mint of Europe and the United States closed against silver and the principle governments of the world controlled by the gold syndicate, the people of this country must apply the remedy which the law gives American citizens, if they want better times, and see that men are elected to frame and administer our laws who are more favorably disposed toward silver than those which controlled the last Congress and the present Congress.

The Chicago papers say seventeen crews have been laid off on the Iowa and Dakota division of the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul railroad. This is occasioned by farmers holding their grain for a better price. They claim that the present price of corn does not pay them for husking and marketing and it is being generally used for fuel instead of coal. Intelligent farmers know that the scarcity of money caused by the adoption of the gold standard is the main cause of the low price of products.

CONGRESSIONAL COMMITTEES.

Speaker Reed Trying to Arrange Them. WASHINGTON, December 13.—Speaker Reed did not appear at the Capitol today. It was announced that he had remained at his hotel to work on the committees. The impression grows stronger daily that Dingley of Maine will be Chairman of the Ways and Means Committee instead of Payne of New York, who ten days ago was supposed to be booked for the leadership of the majority on the floor. The Chairmanship of the Appropriations Committee lies between General Henderson of Iowa, the present ranking member, and Cannon of Illinois, who would have been ranking member had he not failed of election to the Fifty-second Congress. The Rivers and Harbors Chairmanship is supposed to lie between Herman of Oregon and Hooker of New York. The Chairmanships of the following committees seem almost certain: Foreign Affairs, Hitts, Illinois; Judiciary, Stone, Pennsylvania; Pacific Railroads, Peters, Vermont; Banking and Currency, Walker, Mississippi; Interstate Commerce, Hepburn, Iowa; Elections, Daniels, New York; Naval Affairs, Bostelle, Maine.

Accidental Death.

WILKESBARRE, Pa., December 13.—Ex-County Commissioner Samuel Lines, one of the best-known residents of this city, met with a distressing death ten miles from here yesterday. He had been hunting, and while waiting in a station in Hanover for a train his loaded gun was accidentally discharged and the top of his head was blown off. He was 63 years old and left a family.

TELEGRAPHIC NOTES.

Herman Osirichs, Jr., will contest the will of his grandfather, the late James G. Fair.

R. H. McDonald, indicted for embezzlement in connection with the Pacific Bank of San Francisco, was acquitted by the jury.

The weather in the Eastern States is extremely cold. The mercury ranges from 10 to 26 degrees below zero in Northern New York and Vermont.

The Prince of Wales, who had some grains of powder blown in his eyes while hunting, has had the stuff removed without injury to his eyes.

The cabinet crisis in Spain will not, it is said, affect the policy of that country in dealing with the Cuban insurgents. The crisis is due to local causes in Madrid.

L. B. Frazier, V. L. Frazier and Frank Harvey have been arrested in Potter Valley, California for cutting timber on Government land. They were released on $500 bail.

Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Hammond and three children were killed while crossing the track of the Dayton and Urbana railroad in a closed carriage seven miles from Dayton, Ohio.

The first bill to pass the House of Representatives and the first that will probably pass the Senate is one to extend Chicago as a port of entry so as to cover the whole State of Illinois.

A fire in the Wann building at St. Paul, Minnesota, destroyed property valued at $75,000, of which $65,000 was sustained by Guitman Brothers, manufacturers of shirts and overalls.

W. W. Bateman committed suicide in Hanford, California, by shooting himself in the head with a revolver. He was the owner of considerable wealth, but being a cripple was despondent.

Chin Hane, a Chinese highbinder, was hanged at Folsom prison, California, yesterday for the murder of Lee Gong in Sacramento in May, 1892. It was the first execution at Folsom prison.

A jury has awarded J. R. Clowdie $5,500 damages in a suit which he brought against the Fresno Flume and Irrigation Co. He was gored by a bull belonging to the company and crippled for life.

John D. Spencer, editor of the Modesto Daily News, died of heart failure yesterday; aged 65 years. He represented Stanislaus county, California, in the State Legislature and was elected Clerk of the Supreme Court.

A bill has been introduced in the United States Senate to give the States of Colorado, Idaho, Montana, Nevada, Oregon, Washington, and Wyoming 25 per cent of the receipts from the sale of mineral lands for the support of the public schools.

Chairman Harrity of the Democratic National Committee, has issued a call for the members of the Committee to meet in Washington January 16th, to name the time and place for holding the next Convention. Harrity, who is a gold man, wants the convention held late in the year.

Herr Ahlwardt, the German Jew hater, was rotten-egged while leaving the Cooper Union Hall in New York City. Louis Silverman, accused of throwing the eggs, was held in $500 bail. Ahlwardt is a member of the German Reichstag and fanatical in his hatred of Jews.

The Grangers' Bank of California, which has closed its doors, owes depositors $201,640 88; banks and bankers, $188,388 44, making a total indebtedness of $390,029 32. To meet this the bank has on hand $70,000 in cash, and bonds, stocks, real estate and loans amounting to over $1,000,000.

The Executive Committee of the California Miners' Association has been in secret session for three days. They want to decide on the best kind of a law for protecting the mineral lands of California. They want the Idaho-Montana act passed by the last Congress extended to Nevada, but the Southern Pacific does not want it.

BREVITIES.

The framework of the ice palace at Truckee is nearly completed. The skating rink is 700 feet long and 16 feet wide. The town is lively and full of workmen and a snow club has been organized.

John Fitzgerald's Arcade saloon is one of the coolest resorts in town. He keeps the best stock and is "up to date" in everything. The most courteous treatment is accorded to everyone.

Ten or fifteen Reno couples attended the Knights of Pythias ball at Verdi last night and all say they had a splendid time and that the Verdi Knights know how to entertain and immediately made their guests at home.

The Dispatch says the wages of the coal heavers at Wadsworth were reduced from nine to seven and one-half cents per ton for unloading coal. The laborers quit, saying they could not live on that compensation, and the work is now being done by Chinese.

Ritter and Richardson devote special attention to their jobbing trade and are fully prepared with a select stock of imported and domestic wines, and liquors. Chief in stock they offer Kellogg whisky, of which they make a specialty, as they carry the only Kellogg whisky in this market.

Policemen are on guard at the Campbell street Presbyterian church, Chicago, to prevent card playing within the sacred edifice. A number of residents in the vicinity were making a regular gambling house out of the church. The janitor took a hand in the games, but he had a club in his hand and the police were called to his assistance.

Attorney General Childs of Minnesota says that opening the public schools with a recital of the Lord's prayer is in violation of the State Constitution, which provides that no person shall be compelled to attend, erect or support any place of worship. As the Constitution requires the people to support the schools, a religious service at the opening of school is unconstitutional.

George J. Smith of Reno was born in Pennsylvania and never met any relatives except his own immediate family during the 37 years of his life. A few days ago he met a gentleman accidentally and from his general appearance took him to be a member of the Smith family. He inquired and ascertained that the stranger was an own cousin of his, a young man named P. M. Smith of whose existence he was not aware.

"Almost as Palatable as Milk"

This is a fact with regard to Scott's Emulsion of Cod Liver Oil. The difference between the oil, in its pure state, is very apparent. In you detect no fish-oil taste. As it is a help to digestion there is no after effect except good effect. Keep in mind that Scott's Emulsion is the best promoter of flesh and strength known to science.

CARSON MINT SHORTAGE.

SECOND TRIAL OF JAMES HENEY—ELEVENTH DAY.

The Defense Still Accounting for the Shortage—The Pickler—Stealage Comes in.

(Correspondence of the JOURNAL.)

CARSON, December 13, 1895.

T. R. Hofer, resumed—Described to the jury the regular manner and routine of passing over the mint bullion at each annual settlement, or from one administration to another, from the Melter and Refiner to the Superintendent. Have seen the Bodie false or spurious melt.

Did you receive it at any time during your superintendency? Objection of prosecution promptly interposed and maintained by the Court.

The receipt given by the present Superintendent Adams to witness showed $6,525,290 in coin and bullion in the mint at the settlement of 1894. The books of the mint came into discussion and Clarke said: It is agreed all around that the books balance. And that ended that part of the business.

If anybody stole bullion from the mint or substituted a false melt, would the books show it? Certainly not.

Witness described the method of handling, weighing of the bullion and returning to the vault at the regular annual settlements under the inspection of Government agents sent for the purpose. The settlement of 1894 was made in the Superintendent's weighing room principally, and also in that of the Melter and Refiner.

The fineness and value of melts or deposits are recorded, but not the number of shoe bars in any melt. Would have to learn from outside information as to how and when that Bodie false melt or deposit got into the mint.

From my twenty years experience in observing or handling the bullion, I say it did not get in there while I was connected with the institution.

John T. Jones testified as to the perfect unreliability of the memorandum book of the Melting and Refining department in the matter of balancing or settlements. It is simply a daily, continuous record or memorandum of bullion received at the refinery, and subsequent results are given to the Superintendent.

The leaves torn out of the consolidation melts books were evidently abstracted to prevent the tracing up of that false melt and covering up some of the mint shortage. I made the discovery of the mutilation of that book last April in trying to trace up that false melt, and called the attention of Coffin to it. Melter and Refiner Harris was with us in looking through the book. From all my experience and investigation of the books, the original Bodie melt never was sent to the refinery. All or any of the books do not show that the false melt No. 164 was ever operated upon.

Ernest Christian—Formerly melter at the mint; never had any trouble from slag rising on top of the pot. Described melting process to the jury. Lawrence Elrod—Twenty years experience in clerical position at the Carson mint entitled him to say the books were all right, balancing correctly and showing nothing wrong; never had anything to do with that memorandum book of the Melter and Refiner department. It was simply a memorandum and not a book of record.

He described the mode of annual settlement to the jury.

He took leading part in weighing and handling the bullion at the settlement of '93, and that Bodie false melt was not in it, or it would have been detected.

Last March Mr. Mason in commencing his investigation of the bullion consulted with me, asking what I thought would be the best way to ferret out the matter of the false melt discovered. I told him I thought he had better fit the shoe bars into the moulds.

Wm. Christler, formerly captain of the watch at the mint, never saw anything wrong or uncommon in Heney's passing in or out of the mint after his luncheon. Other employees did the same.

Frank Oliver, employed in the melting room, was at the annual settlement of 1894 and handled every bar of the bullion. If that spurious melt had been there he was sure he could not have failed to detect it by color, weight or lack of valuation.

S. E. Patterson, Constable—Served the search warrant on Wm. Pickler and was instrumental in unearthing the crude bullion found in Pickler's barn; ten and a quarter pounds of it. (Produced in court for the first time in this Heney trial.) Found this "king" in the privy of Mrs. Burns, and old colored woman living south of town. W. O. Stewart, Pickler's woman, told where it was, and that Pickler threw it there after the discovery of his crookedness.

Went to Bodie and found that over $200 of fine gold bullion of the granulated character had been sold at the bank.

The "king" mentioned by witness is simply the scraping or odds and ends from a melt, cleaned up and melted into a button. This was about the size of an ounce bullet and worth $25. The granulated gold sold at Bodie was what Pickler had in a bottle on the upper shelf of a closet, and was sold after he died by somebody to be heard from later on, perhaps; also the pieces of crude bullion that were in the same place and got away with by Pickler in time before the search warrant was served.

WEATHER BULLETIN.

Forecasts for the Latter Part of December.

(By Prof. W. T. Foster.)

St. Joseph, Mo., December 13.—My last bulletin gave forecasts of the storm wave to cross the continent from December 16th to 20th, and the next will reach the Pacific coast about the 20th, cross the west of Rockies country by the close of the 21st, the Great Central Valleys 22d to 24th and the Eastern States the 25th.

This disturbance will occur during the cold part of the month and this storm will belong to the blizzard kind followed by very cold weather.

Precipitation will extend to nearly the whole of North America, principally in the north, snows and sleet along the 40th parallel and cold rains in the south.

The warm wave will cross the west of Rockies country about the 20th, Great Central valleys the 22d and the Eastern States the 24th. The cool wave will cross the west of Rockies country about the 23d, Great Central valleys the 25th and the Eastern States the 27th.

This last weather disturbance of December will reach the Pacific coast about the 26th, cross the west of Rockies country by the close of the 27th, Great Central valleys from the 28th to 30th and the Eastern States the 31st.

Temperatures will not go so low with this disturbance as with the one preceding and precipitation will be less. The cool wave following will soon give way and January will come in under a high temperature average.

Some people will not forget the great storms, cold waves and blizzards that crossed the country from November 22d to 26th, the date given in my bulletins for this disturbance, but they might overlook the important fact that these average storms were clearly predicted in the bulletin of October 9th which said: "This disturbance will bring in the coldest part of the month. * * The general forecast for this month was low averages from the 21st to 28th. Northern States will probably get snow from this disturbance and precipitation will show a marked increase generally."

LOCAL AND GENERAL NEWS.

News From Here, There and Every Where.

A new counterfeit $2 silver certificate has been discovered. It is of the series of 1891, check letter C, plate No. 41, J. Foundtman, Register, S. D. N. Morgan, Treasurer.

The Commissioners of Nye county at their last meeting ordered: "That all bids over 40 cents on the dollar, for the redemption of Nye county indebtedness, be rejected." The amount of the general fund script redeemed was $1,906 50, the amount paid for the same was $749 07.

Three times as many American horses have been sold in England this year as were called for in 1894, and their average price at the port of shipment has been $155. They are used chiefly for draft in London and there is a future for horses suited to commercial and military uses.

Eleanor C. Huntington of New York, owner of the Nevada City water works, has brought suit in the United States Circuit Court to restrain the Trustees of Nevada City from building new water works for $60,000, pursuant to an election held last fall. The plaintiff alleges that under the charter the city is limited to $2,000 in its authority to contract debts. She further alleges that the city's present water supply is pure and abundant.

Marvelous Results.

From a letter written by Rev. J. Gunderman, of Diamond Lake, Mich., we are permitted to make this extract: "I have no hesitation in recommending Dr. King's New Discovery, as the results were almost marvelous in the case of my wife. While I was pastor of the Baptist Church at River Junction she was brought down with Pneumonia succeeding La Grippe. Terrible paroxysms of coughing would last hours with little interruption and it seemed as if she could not survive them. A friend recommended Dr. King's New Discovery; it was quick in its work and highly satisfactory in results." Trial bottles free at S. J. Hodgkinson's drug store. Regular size, 50 cts. and $1.

The Delinquent List.

Total amount of delinquency $8,928 09
Less poll taxes and deductions $1,487 12
Less T. & T. R. B. Bonds $2,892 10
Less S. W. Bowman $56 91
$4,492 96
Balance $4,436 96

The Y. & T. and S. W. Bowman's delinquency will probably be settled by lawsuits, and the greater portion of the balance as given above will be settled before suits are brought.

WHITE PINE FOR FREE COINAGE.

What "Farmer" Burke Says of the Situation.

SCHREIBER, Nev., Dec. 8, 1895.

EDITOR JOURNAL—Please find enclosed subscription for your valuable paper. The silver men in this part of the country endorse the views of the JOURNAL on that question. We are ready to go into any party that will give us a free coinage man on a free coinage platform. The goldbugs in this section went into their holes after the last State election, and some of them commenced wiggling out since the recent election in the East, but thank the Lord there are not very many of them in this part of the country and there will be less in '96 unless the old parties take up the silver question. I think the meanest man on earth is a Nevada goldbug. He is worse than a man who shouldered a gun and fought in the rebel army. If the South had been victorious they would have maintained a Government, but the goldbug maintains nothing but bolstering up the rotten bulks of the Democratic and Republican parties. The great "Buzard Bay Wallower," the rouser up of the garden of American liberty, has deserted his position clearly in his last message on the silver question, and you know where to find him. But the man who talks silver and votes the goldbug ticket is a worse man than the "Buzard Bay Wallower," because you don't know where to find him and you can't meet his argument with an argument.

Our county is very dull and it would have been a hard matter for men to have raised money to pay their taxes if it had not been for the cattle sold in the county this year. There were several mines working and shipping ore before the repeal of the Sherman law. After that law was repealed it stopped all silver mining. There are but three men working in the mines in this end of the county and they are working on the lookout mine at Ruby Hill for a Salt Lake Company. There are twenty-five quartz mills in the county, all standing idle. With free coinage of silver and a railroad through from Salt Lake we would be the most prosperous people in the State, yet with these facts staring the people in the face you find men whooping up the old parties.

If a man were to lie to you once in a business transaction, the chances are that you would not have much confidence in him, and both the old parties have been lying to us since 1873. It has been their circus and old Shyluck has been taking in the gate money. With my best wishes for your well-fare and hoping you may live long to continue the noble work you are doing for silver, Yours respectfully, WM. BURKE.

Heart Palpitation

Cured by Hood's Sarsaparilla
"I had what is called palpitation of the heart; it never left me for a moment. Sometimes I would almost fall over, and could not stay in a close room or a crowd of people. Physicians did not do me any good; in fact, I seemed to be growing worse all the time until I began to take Hood's Sarsaparilla. I was soon better, and after taking 3 bottles, I was perfectly cured. My wife is taking Hood's Sarsaparilla for rheumatism, and it is doing her more good than all other medicine she has ever taken. She has been prostrated by rheumatism frequently for seven years, and the past year has been so that she could not turn over in bed without help. Now she can get around and do her work." J. P. EVANS, Vacaville, Cal.

A CENTURY HENCE
Samples of Items That May Then Appear in the Papers.

A horse, an animal said to have once been quite common in our city streets, was seen in this city yesterday. He attracted much curiosity and he was followed wherever he went by immense crowds. It is almost impossible to believe that our ancestors could have trusted their lives to so formidable a creature. It is understood that the animal escaped from the Equine Food abattoir in Brighton.

An almost unprecedented event happened in this city last evening, when Mr. and Mrs. John Brownsmith celebrated the anniversary of their marriage. The Brownsmiths were married twenty years ago. It is quite remarkable for a couple to live so long together in the same wedlock, and their celebration naturally drew to their residence a throng of admiring friends. Congratulations were poured upon the happy pair, with wishes that they might continue together long enough to observe the second anniversary of their wedding.

The directors of the Empires Mounting company have been convicted of the charge of failure to examine into the accounts of their treasurer, and have been sentenced to imprisonment in the state prison for a term of five years. Their counsel argued that, inasmuch as the treasurer's accounts, as shown by expert examination, were faultless during his ten years of service and that no suspicion had ever fallen upon him, the sentence should be lighter, but the court very justly remarked that the offense was the same as if the result had been severe loss to the stockholders.

It was curious to see a pedestrian in Washington street today, the first one that has been seen in the city for many years. He occasioned no small amount of vexation to the bicyclists, in whose way he was getting continually. There could be no objection to people walking in their own houses or in the country, where there is plenty of room, but it is clearly out of the question that the practice should be permitted in our crowded city streets.

The death of Solomon Strongmind, which occurred this morning, calls to mind the remarkable fact that during his long residence of five years or more in this city he has never mysteriously disappeared for even once. Undoubtedly Mr. Strongmind was somewhat eccentric in his habits generally, but in this special matter the controlling cause must have been something far more potent than mere oddity.

A man appeared on the street dressed in trousers and cutaway coat yesterday. He was promptly arrested and carried to the station house. When he next made his appearance he had donned the petticoats and other garments appropriate to his sex. —Boston Transcript.

WHAT NORDAU HAS DONE.

In "Degeneration" he has the great merit of combating certain dominant instincts, particularly that of mysticism which, I understand in these latter days, thanks to certain errant geniuses, has led astray a vast throng of talents. In this book, too, he is ever the man of our century who has most felt the pulse of his times, and he has not only put his finger on our most open wound—on that egotism which is sterilizing our moral sense and rendering us true to one another—but he also has succeeded in finding its explanation in the special tendencies of the degenerate; whether it be the higher class degenerates who invents the strangest freaks to catch the public eye—as weddings in a balloon or Cardinal Lavigerle's cranial—or the imitative degenerates who deem themselves original in simply copying.

Finally he has had the supreme merit of applying psychiatric research to literary criticism. He has carried this reform to its utmost applicability, seeing, with that audacity, intrepid even to insolence, which he exhibited in his "Conventional Lies," to demolish the reputations most firmly established. And thus he has been able to overthrow the work of the French and German Symbolists and Decadents, who proclaim science untrue because in 100 years of toil she has not given them the key to all the mysteries. These pages of his are among the most splendid written in this century, such as could be wrested from an artist thinker by the sight of four idlers, who insult the legion of tireless workers busy in searching and researching nature, even into her inmost recesses. And very just is his diagnosis of them—that they have for their characteristics a nebulousness of mental representation, a confused and motley ideation, too much egotism, an abnormal emotional fabric and an exaggerated egotism which in relation to their own selves—"Nordau's 'Degeneration,' Its Value and Its Errors," by Cesare Lombroso, in Century.

Sunlight and Fire.
It is not servant girl stupidity alone, for many half educated people will assert that sunlight puts out fire. Some such great potency the sun is supposed to possess, in a power to extinguish any poor fire made by human hands. This belief, it is possible, owes its origin in sun worship, for of all nature's phenomena the action of the sun must have been the one which had the strongest effect on primitive man. We know positively that the sun has nothing to do with the burning of combustibles on this earth. Nevertheless to believe that it does is one of the popular errors most difficult to quash. —New York Times.

A Witty Abbot.
Francis I of France, being desirous to raise a learned man to the highest dignities of the church, asked him if he was of noble descent. "Your majesty," answered the abbot, "there were three brothers in Noah's ark, but I cannot tell positively from which of them I descended." The witty abbot obtained the appointment.

Why Not Try Paine's Celery Compound?

The loss of a single night's sleep tells in the drawn expression on the face and the sluggish powers of the mind. When this unfortunate privation continues night after night, no one can shut his eyes to the disastrous outcome. Dizziness, neuralgia, headache, dyspepsia, melancholia and that dread paralysis follow.

Physicians know the peril of sleeplessness. In every case brought under their care narcotics are rigidly kept away, because momentary relief leaves matters worse in the end. A permanent cure that looks to a rapid nourishment of the nervous system is found in Paine's Celery Compound. Nothing performs the needed service so surely and so rapidly.

It is the greatest nerve and brain restorative the world has ever known. The wonderful formula of Paine's Celery Compound is no secret to the medical profession. It is not a patent medicine. Its absolute freedom from any deleterious substance is an assured fact vouched for by the ablest physicians in the country, and by the eminent Prof. Edward E. Phelps, M. D., LL. D., of Dartmouth college, who first prepared it.

Sufferers from neuralgia, neuralgic headaches and rheumatism should stop short their morphine, quinine and such pain-killing drugs. No cure can be hoped for from these temporizers.

There is one way of getting rid forever of the causes of all suffering; that is by taking Paine's Celery Compound. In this great modern remedy the real means to health is attended to; sleep is made sound and refreshing, the appetite improves and the nerves stop complaining, because they get the nutriment that nature requires. This is the fundamental, rational way that Paine's Celery Compound takes to be able to cope successfully with diseases of the liver, kidneys and stomach, and to guarantee a complete return of sound sleep, good digestion and a quiet, well regulated nervous system.

Webster's Will.
Most men of weight dislike the final gilt and satin chairs which accidentally fall to their lot in a crowded drawing room. They were in use in Mr. Webster's time. As an evening reception given to the accession of President Tyler and the disclamation of President Harrison's cabinet, Mr. Stimbury, late attorney general, was accompanied by his bosom friend, Mr. Leonard, who immediately retired to a corner and selected this gilded trifle as a resting place. In order to withdraw still further from notice, he tilted the frail structure backward. Down it went, smashed into a dozen pieces, and Leonard, the embarrassed, was Leonard the observed by all.

Mr. Webster immediately rushed to the rescue of his unfortunate guest and raised him from the floor with the reassuring remark, "Why, my dear Mr. Leonard, you should have remembered that no cabinet work would hold together here."

The Isom Steaks of Kentucky.
There is an awful warning to those parents who continue to name children after their relatives. Up in Knott county, on Caney creek, the practice has been carried to an excess, and the result is that the Isom family numbers among its members the following: Big Isom Isom, Ham's Isom, Son's Isom, Isom's Isom, Jailer Isom, Sorrel Head Isom, Jim's Isom, Little Isom, Andy's Isom, Isom's Isom, Jimbo's Isom, Big Isom's Isom and Sorrel Head Isom's Isom. — Louisville Post.

Sharpening a Pencil.
From childhood up man, naturally destructive, with an inherent desire to smash things, has been taught to take care of everything that is nice, tidy and ornamental. If you want to know how well the lesson has been learned, watch men sharpen pencils. Did you ever see one begin at the end that has the pretty gilt letters on it? The rudest and most careless man will turn the pencil end for end and whittle on the plain part. — New York Press.

A Society Event.
"Yes," observed the master of ceremonies, "you weep to the jury beautifully, but let us again rehearse your glaze at the defendant."

By dint of much drilling the affair passed off very creditably, and was described as one of the prettiest home divorces of the season. — Detroit Tribune.

Identical With the Buns.
A Babylonian tablet in the British museum which has been deciphered has an account of the death of King Sennacherib almost identical with that in the Bible (II Kings, xix, 37). — Philadelphia Record.

Help! Help!
"Help! Help!" cried the man who was being robbed.
"Calm yourself," said the highwayman. "I won't take any assistance." — Town Topics.

The Doctor's Familiarity.
"Hasn't he too young for her?"
"Yes," said the girl's father, "but the young doctor has a lot to learn."
